Hi _____!

It's name from clinic/hospital. There is a transition event on date at time at location that we thought you might be interested in.

You would get to meet other people your age who are living with type 1 diabetes.

We thought of you because you are at the age when you will soon be moving (transitioning) from pediatric to adult diabetes care. The event is a good opportunity to learn more about what transition means, learn differences between pediatric and adult diabetes care visits, and have an opportunity to discuss and learn helpful tips for living with diabetes as a young adult.

You're more than welcome to bring a friend your age if you wish.

Are you interested in attending?
